AMMENDED 10/5/2026

9/12/2026 - Adam Stade posted and set as his cover photo an AI generated image depicting me on top of my husband, Michael Beck, on the street. The picture appears to show me engaged in a sexual act with my husband on the street and has no other value than to harass and torment me. The comments on the picture indicate that people are taking his picture as truth with comments by users such as: "Almost looks too real to be satirical" and "Does she have a strap on". This photo did include a small "This is satire by Adam Stade" mark in the lower right corner. See Beck 1-2 in supporting documentation. The comments on the photo demonstrate that other viewers of the photo also believed the photo to be sexual in nature.

The photo is a violation of 17-A M.R.S. § 511-A, unauthorized dissemination of certain private images which includes images that are modified so that it appears to show the depicted person in a state of nudity or engaged in a sexual act or engaged in sexual contact in a manner in which there is no public or newsworthy purpose when the person knows or should have known that the depicted person: Is identifiable from the image itself or information displayed in connection with the image; and C. Has not consented to the dissemination, display or publication of the image. Mr. Stade posted these on his personal page and modified the images with the intent to depict Jamie Beck in a sexual act to harass and torment her, not as media speech.

Mr. Stade has since updated his Facebook Cover photo to use the original photo of an unknown person as his cover photo, but the photos remain accessible in his Facebook profile. See Beck 4 in supporting documentation.

The browser's taskbar at the bottom includes icons for Windows, Search, and various applications like File Explorer, Microsoft Edge, and Google Chrome.

The main content of the page is a photograph of a woman with blonde hair, wearing a red floral dress, kneeling on a paved surface. She is smiling and has her hands on the back of a man lying face down on the ground. The man has a beard and glasses, and his back is covered in numerous red, bloody abrasions. A small white card with black text is placed on the ground near the man, reading: "This is satire by Adam Stade."

To the right of the photograph is a list of comments from Facebook users:
